STYLE

"I paint bold, larger-than-life photorealistic still lifes of relatable objects, highlighting their subtle beauty and quirks and inviting the viewer into my world. I enjoy the challenge of capturing an object in a new way, and giving life to the subject."

A contemporary acrylic painter residing in Elizabethtown, PA. Started creating art in late 2018, after a 28 year career in design and advertising. An active member of the Hershey Area Art Association.
